

Each internal edge (those that don't contain an endpoint) has a vertex added to it's midpoint.

Previous vertices are moved to the midpoint of their adjacent edges' midpoints.

